General News

The Post Office Department at Washington has let the following contracts to Captain John Mullan of Idaho Territory: For mail service between San Francisco and Oakland; for mail service from Susanville, California, to Boise City, Idaho Territory. These mails are to go into effect on the first of July and to continue four years. Captain Mullan is the President of the California and Idaho Stage Line. It is reported that the new route is the shortest and most economical one between San Francisco and the mining districts in the Boise and Owyhee countries.

A bill has passed Congress to secure the construction of a canal to enable vessels to pass from Lake Erie to Lake Ontario around the Niagara Falls on the American side. It will be about nine miles long, 105 feet wide on top and 90 feet on the bottom, with a capacity of fourteen feet of water. It is provided in the bill that six million dollars shall be loaned by the United States for construction, the canal to be paid in bonds twenty years after date. It will be of immense value to the Government by affording facilities for protecting the lakes and northern frontier.

A dispatch from Louisville 15th May says: In the case of Colonel Jaques of Illinois, whose trial on an indictment for murder has been in progress for several days, the jury this morning returned a verdict of not guilty without leaving their seats.

Three hundred and forty Indians of the Yellow Medicine tribe of Sioux, the remnant of Little Crow's band, who committed the massacre in Minnesota in 1862 and were taken prisoners by Governor Marshall, have been sent up to the Missouri river to be settled on a portion of one of the Territories, where they will be watched and kept out of mischief. One of them boasts that he killed and scalped a dozen white women. Thirty-nine of the ringleaders of the massacre were tried and hung, but Little Crow made his escape with a portion of his band. These Indians, of whom about 150 are squaws, have been held as hostages ever since.

A monument in honor of Columbus has been erected in Salamanca, Spain. It is placed on a lofty elevation near the grounds of the University, in the place where the Doctors of the Institution received and listened to his theories concerning the new route to the Indies. The monument is a large pedestal resting on a broad base and arch, and above, gracefully lifting itself high in air, is a beautiful eagle and globe. The height of the whole is 105 meters. It is constructed entirely of granite of a dark and regular color.

Dr. Livingstone arrived at Zanzibar on the 28th of January. He lost all his Indian buffaloes except four, on the voyage, but although he will not, as he anticipated, have the use of them as beasts of burden, still he has sufficient left to enable him to make a trial as to whether they will withstand the bite of the "Tzetze" fly, the scourge of that part of Africa which he intends visiting.

Letters have just been made public which are interesting as part of the secret history by which Mexico was to be invaded and subjugated. From this it is rendered certain that Santa Anna was intriguing for the "Empire of Maximilian" as long ago as November 1861. He pronounced the then candidate Maximilian, "unexceptionable." The detestation with which Santa Anna is regarded by patriotic Mexicans is accounted for.

Soon after the arrival of Stephens, the Head Centre of the Fenians in New York, it is stated upon the authority of the Courrier des Etats Unis, that he declared "the invasion of Canada a ridiculous enterprise and suicidal to the cause." From this it would appear that the movement of the Order on the frontier, which is now taking place, is not in accordance with the wishes and desires of those persons who would immediately liberate Ireland.

The bill which passed the other day, extending the territory of Nevada, cuts off a whole degree of the present territory of Utah and gives it to Nevada, with the addition of the triangle lying between the 37th parallel of north latitude and the Colorado river. This throws Callville, the Mormon landing place, on the Colorado, into Nevada.

The Kearny Herald says, General Sherman has paid that military post a brief visit, for the purpose of acquainting himself with the Pacific Railroad surveys, about which there is much discussion as regards the most practical route for the main trunk of the road. The General expressed himself in favor of both branches being extended to Denver and thence through the mountains.

Frank Gurley, the murderer of Gen. McCook, was released on parole at Huntsville, Ala., on April 28th. Gurley is sheriff of his county, and will soon enter upon the duties of his office.

HENRY J. RAYMOND.—A Washington correspondent of the New York Independent, gives the following sketch of the editor of the New York Times:

Henry J. Raymond has just turned his face around in most convenient fashion. And what kind of a face is it? This moment it looks strangely like Robespierre's. Yet why should it? Robespierre was the slave of ideas. He said, "Principles are cruel and must be obeyed," but I doubt if Henry J. Raymond ever felt a profound conviction in his life. An insignificant person, a parchment-like skin into which neither praise nor blame can draw the warm blood of emotion, sleek hair, a high retreating forehead, cold gray eyes, an upturned nose and an obsequious chin. This is the physique of the gifted editor of the New York Times. This face might be kind, it might be cruel, but it could never be trusted utterly when you needed it the most. A most uncertain face, it is a clear index of the man who politically is always perched on the fence, ready to jump either way, as interest might dictate. Possessing a most available brain, he uses every fraction of talent with consummate skill. But he will never be the unswerving champion of great principles. Such minds are as susceptible to change of purpose as others are to change of emotion. They are simply kaleidoscopes, reflecting the hues of popular opinion. Brilliant they may be, but in their glittering changes no one color stands alone and steadfast.

VERY GOOD.—The Rocky Mountain News makes the following good reply to a "cheeky" proposition for an exchange:

We do not propose to write a homily upon "cheek," but merely give an illustration of this beautiful accomplishment. The People, a sensational literary (?) paper of the "yellow kivered" persuasion, comes to us with a half column prospectus marked and the modest proposition attached that if we would publish said prospectus they would send us an exchange. That is what we call cheek. Now to accommodate you, Mr. People, we will make you a counter proposition. If you will send us the difference between your subscription and ours and two dollars to pay us for the trouble of opening your paper every week, we will send in exchange.

RETIRED.—H. M. Abbott, for a few months editor in chief of the Oregon Herald, has retired from that position. It was the great misfortune of H. M. that he came [illegible]. It was too much for him. He could not bear the cruel [illegible]. It was [illegible] him. He goes from the tripod sorrowfully sighing:

Tell me ye winged winds
That round my pathway roar,
Can I not find some spot
Where [illegible] more?
Where [illegible]
Shall stab me with a quill,
Like County treason forget,
And Union tongues be still?
The wind replied with glee "there's not
In East or West so [illegible] spot."
—[illegible]

VALLANDIGHAM.—C. L. Vallandigham tersely says that if President Johnson's principles are those of the party which elected him he has for at least ten years been a Republican without knowing it. Also unknowing and unknown, we notice as an amendment, says the New York Tribune.

The Democratic Chronicle published a lot of bogus dispatches Thursday morning representing that the Fenians had possession of Canada and Seward had acknowledged them as belligerents. The call took, and an impromptu meeting of thirty or forty Irishmen took place on Morrison street, when it was determined to capture British Columbia.

The Bethany ([illegible]) [illegible] says that the rebels in Gentry county in that State lately tore down an American flag, carried it away and buried it. Why sleep the thunders of the Herald of this city and the Courier of Lafayette?

FROM BRITISH COLUMBIA MINES

From files of B. C. papers to the 13th we obtain the following:

THE TRAILS—SNOW.

The trail for 21 miles from Seymour is good, then about 10 miles of snow across the Divide. Sixty men are at present employed in shoveling the snow—they will get through next week. The remainder of the trail to the landing is good and dry. Turnbull has 22 men at work on the trail from McCulloch creek to the Steamboat Landing—five miles were completed on Wednesday last. It will be finished in eight days. The ferry is removed from Kirby's to the Steamboat Landing.

FRENCH CREEK MINES.

On French creek for three or four miles there is very little snow; above that there is still snow to the depth of two feet and upwards. The Monroe Company is the only one taking out pay; for the week ending May 26th this company divided $40 to the interest over wages. The other companies were building wheels, sinking dams and cutting races to turn the bed of the creek, but the high water has almost completely stopped all work.

Thirteen houses are being built and finished on speculation.

The number of men on both creeks is estimated at 500; about 100 are at the steamboat landing.

Every day we have men returning, some giving unfavorable descriptions of the place, others again think more favorably of the creeks and are of opinion that money will be taken out as soon as the water goes down. It will be five or six weeks yet before money will be taken out, and men coming here had not sufficient means to last so they had to go to Cariboo or elsewhere.

The steamer Forty Nine was expected up yesterday.

The following extract is from a letter received by Mr. Vowel of Commissioner O'Reilly's staff yesterday from Mr. Wm. Smith, Mr. O'Reilly's clerk, dated French Creek May 31st: "A company on French Creek reached bed rock and washed up yesterday eleven ounces; the country is all right, this you may depend on as being reliable." There is no later general news. The "49" had not arrived up to Friday.

McCULLOCH'S CREEK DISTRICT.

On Saturday the 26th the water rose so high that work on most of the claims was temporarily suspended on McCulloch's creek. There was no snow for a mile from the mouth; above that from two to eight feet.

Several companies above the Discovery Claim were making preparations for work. The Discovery Company are erecting a derrick to remove boulders.

Above the Canyon, three companies are taking out from $1.50 to $16 per day to the hand from the surface—they have not sunk below the clay. Above these companies and about two miles above the Discovery Company several shafts were bottomed, finding the color but nothing more. One company is still sinking. They are down 30 feet, and have struck gravel below the clay, in which they found a few fine colors.

FROM BIG BEND.

Councillor Jeffrey has received a letter from his son, who is on French Creek, giving a very encouraging account of the writer's prospects. He says that they reached the bed rock and got no prospect, whereupon they commenced washing the dirt that had been thrown out in sinking the shaft, and the company of three men obtained $50 in three days. The writer thinks the diggings are rich and lasting.

WASHINGTON TERRITORY ITEMS

CONTRACT FOR CARE OF THE INSANE.

The contract for taking care of the insane and idiotic of the Territory was let recently to James Huntington and William W. Hayes of Monticello, for five years at $[illegible] per week currency.

SMALL-POX AMONG THE INDIANS.

We are informed that the Indians on the Tulalip Reservation have got the small-pox, and the Authorities have ordered all the whites to leave.

RETURN OF COLLECTOR MOORE.

P. D. Moore, collector of Internal Revenue, has returned after a protracted absence to Washington City.

ELECTION RETURNS.

By the same paper, we learn that in Whatcom county Edward Eldridge, Union, is elected to the Assembly by 19 majority.

Thurston county gives a small Democratic majority.

C. J. Noyes, Union, is elected Joint Councilman from King and Kitsap counties. In King, J. J. McGilvra and C. Clymer, Union, are elected to the Assembly. In Kitsap, H. C. Rowe and A. B. Young, Union, are elected to the Assembly.

The Register says: "In the Legislature the Council is Union. The House of Representatives is about equally divided. We are not sufficiently advised yet, to be able to say whether the aggregate vote of the Territory foots up Union or Democratic."

The subjoined items are from the Vancouver Register of the 10th:

HORSES SHOT.

We learn from Mr. Hayden of this place that two of his horses running at large have been shot, and very seriously if not fatally injured. He believes it was done by a soldier in or about the garrison. We are told that the gates are sometimes left open, perhaps carelessly, so that cattle and other stock may and do go in, and it is rumored that orders are given to shoot them if found inside the gate. We do not believe the rumor, but give it for what it is worth. Mr. H. offers $25 to be informed of the perpetrator of the villainy.

A NEW SALMON FISHERY.

We understand that a California company, dealers in hermetically sealed salmon, game, fruits &c., has established a branch of its business at Oak Point in this Territory for the purpose of canning salmon.

LADIES' FAIR AND FESTIVAL.

We are informed that the Ladies' Industrial Society, connected with the M. E. Church and congregation, has decided to hold a Fair and Strawberry Festival at Grant's Hall on Thursday evening June 28th. The proceeds are to be devoted to the erection of a parsonage.

RETIRES FROM THE REGISTER.

I undertook the publication of the Register for one year, with the privilege of two, and the contract requires me to give the share-holders three months notice of my intention in the premises. In pursuance thereof of said understanding, I hereby give notice that it is my intention to terminate my present connection with the Register at the end of the present year. That connection has to me been pleasant in the main, and I trust in some degree profitable to the community. I would be glad on many accounts to continue it, but I feel that I cannot without making a sacrifice that duty does not demand.

SERIOUS ACCIDENT AT PORT TOWNSEND.

On Tuesday last, while the steamer Cyrus Walker was lying alongside the wharf at Port Townsend, taking in freight, the whistle was suddenly blown, whereupon two spirited horses attached to a large wagon dashed off and ran over a Mr. Plummer, an old settler, and knocked down Mr. H. L. Tibbals, a hotel keeper. The former had both legs and his collar bone broken, and Tibbals received severe internal injury.

FROM VICTORIA.

FENIAN EXCITEMENT—PRECAUTIONARY MEASURES.

It is rumored that the Governor will issue a proclamation to day calling for the enrollment of the militia.

The schooner A. Crosby, Capt. Perkins, with a full cargo and nine passengers arrived from Portland at 10½ last night. The schooner left Portland on Thursday and Astoria on Sunday morning. In entering the Straits yesterday morning at 11 o'clock, the Crosby sighted well over toward the American shore, a large paddle wheel steamer, bark rigged, making toward Port Angeles. She was a vessel about the size of the steamship Sierra Nevada, with her wheel-house painted white, and was evidently a stranger in these parts. She carried a flag at her masthead but its nationality could not be made out with the glass. A number of persons appeared on the decks. It is supposed that the strange vessel is a Russian man of war from Sitka, a telegraph vessel, or a Fenian pirate. We may learn something as to her character to day. The Crosby was boarded by a boat's crew from H. M. S. Alert, to whom the suspicious circumstances were reported.

All vessels approaching this or Esquimalt harbor are now boarded and searched for arms and suspicious characters by boats crews from the Alert and other war vessels.

Including the band about 90 volunteers were present at the drill last evening. The companies were instructed in several new evolutions and much interest was manifested by the spectators, who were present in large numbers. At the close of the drill, the volunteers marched to the corner of Yates and Government streets, where they were addressed by Lieut. Pearse, who said that they might be called upon at any moment, and that a nightly drill would be held.

The steamer Emily Harris from Nanaimo was boarded by a boat's crew from H. M. S. Alert, yesterday morning, and searched for arms and Fenian conspirators. The same course was pursued towards the sloops and schooners that entered the harbor yesterday.

All vessels entering the harbor yesterday were boarded and searched for Fenians and arms by boats from H. M. S. Alert. The Forward is still anchored at Cadboro Bay. The war vessels are being put in fighting trim, and should the pirates make their appearance they will meet with a warm reception. The Eliza Anderson was brought to off the harbor by the Alert's launch and thoroughly searched for suspicious characters.

SEIZURE OF CONTRABAND GOODS.

Twelve packages containing biscuit, blankets, furs, gin, sugar, [illegible], etc., were seized at the New Westminster Custom House for a breach of the Custom Laws of British Columbia, and will be sold at public auction on the 28th inst.

A Copperhead paper says that the "Radicals are quarreling with the man whom they made President." The "Radicals" did not make Andrew Johnson President. They made him Vice President, and the Democratic party, by its agent J. Wilkes Booth, made him President.

OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE STATE

MONDAY MORNING, JUNE 18, 1866

Congress and the Union Party

In the Mountaineer of Thursday last we observe an article entitled "Radicalism," in which are propounded some opinions from which we must beg permission to dissent widely. In speaking of "the vast political change that has taken place in this State within the past two years," our friend of the Mountaineer assigns as we think and shall attempt to show, a wrong reason for the reduction of the Union majority from 2,700 to scarcely 300 votes. The cause assigned for this sudden change in public sentiment "is the unpopularity of the 'measures the Radicals in Congress are trying to force on the Southern people.'" Now we boldly assert, and the election returns conclusively demonstrate, that there has been no change in the political sentiments of those who voted for Henderson in June 1864 and for Lincoln in November of the same year. All such voted the Union ticket in the late election. The Democrats have not gained one hundred votes from the Union party through the whole State since 1864. Though Henderson had 2,700 majority in June of that year, Lincoln had only 1,400 five months later. What was the cause of our majority then being reduced one-half in so short a space of time? Surely the Mountaineer will not claim that it was owing to the extreme "Radicalism" of Lincoln. Henderson received about 8,000 votes in June 1864 and had 2,700 majority; the following November, 9,888 votes were thrown for Lincoln, who, notwithstanding the great gain of the Union vote, had a majority only half as large as Henderson's. In the late election the Union party gained not less than 1,600 on Lincoln's vote, and over 3,000 on the vote which Henderson received, yet after all, narrowly escaped defeat. Now how are we to account for this reduction of our majorities? It is not to be ascribed to a "change of sentiment" among the people who participated in the election two years ago, but to the rapid increase of the rebel Democratic vote by overland immigration. "Price's veterans," of whom so much has been said during the late canvass, are by no means an imaginary host. That they came to this State in large numbers last fall is a fact as well known elsewhere as here. We have been assured that our friends in the East had little hope that we should succeed in the late election, knowing as they did that an uncounted horde of rebel guerrillas had made their way hither during the past two years. That two thirds of the multitude who poured in upon this State last fall came from districts which had suffered severely from their disloyalty is well known; that an equal proportion of them consisted of persons who hold themselves ready to vote the Democratic ticket everywhere and on all occasions, is a matter of equal notoriety, and that large numbers of them came directly from the service of the rebellion in one capacity or another, is a matter of common knowledge, and has been a subject of general comment. Furthermore, we all know that the Democratic leaders relied entirely on an increase of their vote by these immigrations to give them a majority. They did not hope for any "change in public sentiment" among those who had voted here in former elections, and the returns show that they have gained no votes from the Union party. Had Oregon not received the guerrilla immigrations of 1864 and 1865, the Union majority now would be as large as it was two years ago—perhaps much larger.

We agree with our friend of the Mountaineer that the Union party of Oregon did not come out squarely in the State Convention and endorse the measures of Congress." But that it would have done so, had the Congressional plan of reconstruction been fully matured at that time, we have not the slightest doubt. This plan has now passed both Houses of Congress, and has gone to the States for their adoption or rejection. We believe that the Union party of Oregon are almost unanimously in favor of it as against any other which has yet been proposed. Had it been presented in time, it would have relieved us of very many of the embarrassments of the late canvass. Prior to its passage by Congress, there was no fixed plan of that body for the Union party to endorse; for though we all knew substantially what Congress was aiming at, none of us could be certain in what precise form its plan of reconstruction would be presented. Our State Convention, therefore, did not "squarely endorse" the action of Congress, as it could not endorse measures which were merely prospective. We had to wait for the forthcoming plan.

Meanwhile our election came on. During the canvass we had a much more difficult task to perform than if we had had the present Congressional plan of restoration to base our platform upon. The measures of extreme men in Congress were charged upon us as the measures of the Union party. The bugbear of "negro equality" was lugged in to frighten the timid into the Democratic ranks. The charge that we were in favor of unrestricted negro suffrage could not have been used against with more potency, even if it had been true. But in spite of all these disadvantages, the Union party remained firm and undivided and gained a victory. We should have gained it more easily, and by a larger majority, had Congress given us three months ago what it has given us now.

We believe that the Union party of Oregon is with Congress on the question which is uppermost in our politics. It does not adopt Sumner's ideas about negro suffrage, nor Stevens' views on confiscation. But it is with Congress a whole, and accepts the work of that body as its own.

We agree with our friend of the Mountaineer that Congress "looks to forcing measures on the Southern people which they do not want." Congress has been doing this thing for more than five years. Andrew Johnson has been a prominent actor in the same business. He forced them to ratify the abolition of slavery, to repudiate their war debts and to do many other disagreeable things. That the measures of Congress are not what the Southern people want, is to be expected, and perhaps deplored, but as their objections heretofore have not been an insurmountable obstacle to loyal men, we presume they will not be now.

To conclude, we repeat that our majority has been diminished, not by the action of Congress, but by the overland immigrations of the last two years. We think our friend of the Mountaineer will see, on reflection, that the Union party has not lost 2300 votes since Henderson's election, but that it has gained 3,000 in that time. Woods receives over 3,000 votes more than Henderson received in 1864, and Kelly gets between 5,000 and 6,000 more than when he was Henderson's competitor. By immigration, the Democrats have gained two votes to our one. Hereafter the tide of immigration will be in our favor, for peace being restored, the guerrillas will no longer be under the necessity of leaving their old haunts to come out to Oregon. The war has cleared Missouri of rebel Democrats, but has nearly overwhelmed Oregon with them.

The Rev. W. F. Boyakin has arrived at Corvallis. The salacious old Tartuffe says the charges hurled against him are "malicious and false" and threatens "investigations," "prosecutions" etc. etc. If the old boy makes himself too numerous about McMinnville, he need not be surprised if he finds himself the recipient of attentions more warm than pleasant.

[DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.]

DATES TO JUNE 16.

A Bill to Quiet California Land Titles

CHICAGO, June 16.—Senate bill No. 161, reported from the [illegible] public lands to quiet land titles in California [illegible] Senate on Monday. The following [illegible] of the bill [illegible] in the Globe.

[illegible] California [illegible] the friends [illegible] This [illegible] the Commissioner of the [illegible] with amendments meeting the approval of that department. [illegible] at the [illegible] investigation [illegible] that [illegible] to under the several grants made by Congress [illegible] the State at all [illegible] the excess at the rate of $1 25 per acre, and to insert in lieu thereof a proviso to the first section that the State of California shall not receive under this act a greater quantity of land for school or other purposes than she is entitled to by law.

Conness favored the amendment, saying California wanted no more than was her right. The amendment was adopted.

Hendricks read a dispatch from Isaac Hoffe, chairman of the Settlers Association, dated March 29th, saying the passage of the Senate bill on the 29th which was up on this subject would involve preemptors in endless litigation. Hendricks said the committee have labored to free this bill from objections which this party seem to have anticipated. He (Hendricks) thought the proviso inserted in the first section that no selection made by the State contrary to existing laws, shall be confirmed for lands to which an adverse pre-emption, homestead or other right has been acquired by any settler under the laws of the United States sufficiently protected this class of persons. Conness said the telegram just read is fully answered by the proviso to which the Senator from Indiana had referred to, and to I simply desire to say that it may go on the record that I would not vote to confirm to the State of California or to any of its people an acre of land which was settled upon by a man who had taken to make it his home there. My whole effort has been and the object of this bill is to give perfect titles to that class of persons. Conness offered several amendments to the seventh section, which was amended thus read that where in good faith and for a valuable consideration persons have purchased lands of Mexican grantees which grants have subsequently been rejected or where the lands so purchased have been excluded from the final survey of any California grant and have used, improved and continued in actual possession of the same as continuous proprietors according to the lines of their original purchase, and where no valid adverse right or title except of the United States exists such purchasers may purchase the same after having such lands surveyed under existing laws at the minimum price established by law, upon first making proof of the facts under the regulations to be provided by the Commissioner of the General Land Office, provided that whenever it shall be made to appear by petition from the occupant of such lands that injury to permanent improvements would result from running the lines of public surveys through such permanent improvements, the Commissioner of the General Land Office may recognize existing lines of subdivision, from citizens of Sutter county, representing that they had purchased in what was supposed to be the New Helvetia Grant, and he said there were many such cases in California. His amendments to the seventh section were therefore designed to enable such settlers to purchase as continuous proprietors so that they may divide subsequently among themselves and retain their existing lines. The amendment was adopted.

Harris called attention to the proviso at the end of the sixth section relating to the creation of a school fund out of the proceeds of land sales, and said it was not appropriate to this bill. On this motion, therefore, it was struck out. Several other amendments mostly verbal, having been made, the bill as amended was passed without a division, and sent to the House for concurrence.

Veto of the Montana Land Grant Bill.

WASHINGTON, June 16.—The President sent to the Senate his veto of the bill authorizing the New York Montana Iron Mining and Manufacturing Company to buy twenty sections of unsurveyed lands in Montana Territory. The bill provided that the company should survey lands at their own expense and pay the usual price per acre and receive full title only when they had entered into operation on a very considerable scale in iron working. The President in his veto says: The public domain is a national trust, set apart and held for the general welfare, upon principles of equal justice, and not to be bestowed as a special privilege upon any favored class. The proper rules for the disposal of public lands, have from the earliest period been subjects of earnest inquiry, grave discussion and deliberate judgment, and by progressive steps, have advanced until the homestead principle, actual residence and occupation, are made indispensable conditions, and to guard these privileges from the abuses of speculation and monopoly, the law is right, as well as to the mode of establishing a claim by adequate testimony, with penalties for perjury, and for mining trading and other purposes thereon, as the cultivation of the soil. As it interdicts mineral lands, they being excluded from purchase, except those containing coal which in quantities not exceeding 160 acres are restricted to individuals in actual possession and commence with an advanced minimum of twenty dollars per acre—In direct conflict with every principle heretofore observed in the disposal of public lands. The company is not limited like ordinary pre-emptors to one pre-emption claim of a quarter section, but may pre-empt bodies of land amounting in the aggregate to twenty sections, containing 12,800 acres, or eighty ordinary pre-emption rights. The timber is not protected but on the contrary is devoted to speedy destruction. Before assumption of titles, the company is allowed to consume whatever may be made necessary in erection of buildings for manufacturing iron. For these special privileges incorporating a land monopoly of so many years they are required to pay only one dollar and twenty-five cents per acre or one sixteenth of the established minimum, and are granted a credit of two years or twice the time allowed ordinary pre-emption of offered land.

The bill originally passed both the Senate and House without much debate, and it is not probable that any attempt will be made to pass it over the veto.

Congressional.

The bill in reference to the Paris exhibition which passed the Senate this afternoon after a long debate differs from the House bill by increasing the aggregate appropriations to $160,000, while decreasing special items for erection of buildings in Paris to $25,000 in gold. The House bill authorized President Johnson to furnish one or more vessels for transportation of articles to France; also for paying freights both ways.

Speaker Colfax has appointed Messrs Spaulding, Banks, Hogan, Raymond and Thayer a special committee on the Rousseau Grinnell affair, and subsequently on motion of Mr. Ward, leave of absence for one week was granted to Mr. Rousseau.

The Senate has adjourned to Monday, but the House meets to-morrow for general debate.

The Attorney General appeared before the House Committee on Foreign Affairs, and argued against the proposed repeal of neutrality laws as commended in the Fenian resolutions offered last Monday. The question whether Southern States shall be admitted to representation as fast as they adopt the constitutional amendments is yet to be decided to some extent upon the opinion formed on the question whether a State can annul its ratification of amendment, at any time, before it becomes part of the constitution. The negative of this latter question was maintained this afternoon by Judge Orey, of Indiana, in argument that attracted much attention.

Senatorial Election in New Hampshire.

CONCORD, N. H., June 16.—The vote for Senator in the House to-day resulted as follows: Jas. W. Patterson, 199, Ira Eastman, 110, Daniel Clark 2. In the Senate the vote stood: Patterson, 9; Eastman 3.

Nomination for Congress in Iowa.

The Nominations in Indiana.

The following are the Congressional nominations in Indiana: Third District—Republican, General Morton C. Painter, vice Hill, Democratic H. W. Harrington. Fourth District—Colonel Ira G. Grover, Republican, vice Farquhar, who declined re-election. Seventh District—Republican, Gen. H. D. Washburne, Democratic, Judge Clay Poole. The Republican conventions in the Third and Seventh Districts unqualifiedly supported Congress. The convention in the Fourth District ratified the State platform, which expressed no preference between the President and Congress.

Foreign News.

NEW YORK, June 17.—The steamer City of Paris arrived this morning with dates to the 7th.

It is fully confirmed that the proposed peace conference is abandoned, owing to demands of Austria which were regarded by England, France and Russia as tantamount to a refusal, and all negotiations were therefore broken off, and it remains for the neutrals and the armed powers to negotiate among themselves or commence war. Hopes of peace have nearly vanished.

The London Times says, daily and hourly the chances of peace fade away. It believes the first movement will occur in the Elbe Duchies but that the great mass of Austria will be near the boundaries of Silesia. Preparations for active preparations for active politics are reported for all quarters. The Prussian government had issued a circular note to neutral powers, charging Austria with a flagrant breach of treaties by referring the Holstein question to the diet.

The latest despatches from London, June 7th, quote consols 85⅞@85¾, 5-20's, 64@64¼. Agra & Masterman's bank had suspended with liabilities heavy and widespread. The event caused considerable commercial depression though it was not unexpected.

The crisis on the Continent continues and war is apparently inevitable. Paris Bourse very flat at 62f.

Great Fire in Virginia City.

VIRGINIA CITY, Nevada, June 17, 2 P. M.—A fire broke out about 12 o'clock last night in the old Fountain Head Restaurant on B street, extending to A, thence to D, including the Newman House, Leagle buildings, Virginia Hotel, Wells, Fargo & Co's old buildings, Barnum's Restaurant, Brejart's stone buildings, and all the buildings with one or two exceptions on both sides of A, B, C and D streets and Sutton Avenue up to the Post Office. No lives lost as far as known. About one hundred wood brick and stone buildings and contents are destroyed. Loss not yet ascertained.

OUR SAN FRANCISCO DISPATCH.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 16.—The eastern line has been out of order all day but is now working; no report received for the evening papers.

The North American Steamship Co.'s steamer America which left San Juan Del Sur June 4th, where she connected with the Santiago, from New York, May 20th, arrived here at ten this morning.

Gen. Sherman's agent yesterday refused $2,000 per foot for forty-two feet of ground on the corner of Clay and Montgomery streets.

A private letter to a gentleman of this city states that the mother of Thomas Starr King died at her residence in Charlestown, Mass., on the 19th of May. She had been in infirm health for some time previous.

The rates of fare by the Golden Age, which sails for Panama on Monday, are as follows: 1st cabin outside berths $225, ditto inside rooms $181 50, 2nd cabin $118, steerage, $85 50.

Fears are entertained for the safety of the Bremen bark Labelle, which sailed hence Jan. 10th for Hong Kong. The Labelle touched at Honolulu, whence she sailed Feb. 19th, which would make her 67 days out at the latest advices. Among her passengers from Honolulu were Madame Anna Bishop, Messrs. Shultz, Lascelles, Van Roest and Kloatz.

STATE ITEMS.

Quincy A Brooks, Special Mail Agent of the Postoffice Department for the Pacific coast has been officially notified of the following changes in postal affairs within his district: There will be a semi-weekly mail service from Albany by Peoria, Burlington and Harrisburg, to Lancaster (Oregon,) instead of a weekly service as heretofore. The route from Salem to Pleasant Hill (Oregon) will be so changed as to afford mail facilities to Scio and Lebanon. The name and site of the postoffice at Freedom Lane county, Oregon, has been changed to Lancaster, in the same county. Hilton Bonser has been appointed Postmaster for Sauvie's Island, Oregon.

A little son of Mr. John Wrenn of Benton county, says the Gazette was last week thrown from a horse and considerably injured.

The people of Yaquina Bay are preparing to have an old-fashioned celebration of the 4th of July.

A soldier named Kennedy fell from the wharf at Astoria last Tuesday, and was drowned. He belonged to a detachment of U. S. soldiers en route to Puget Sound by the Fideliter.

We learn, says the Mountaineer that Willie Abrams, son of Mr. W. F. Abrams, of this city, met with a serious accident about twenty miles beyond Walla Walla, on Tuesday last. He was engaged in driving a loaded team, and fell from the wagon, the hind wheel passing over his body broke three ribs and cracked his breast bone.

Sixty thousand dollars worth of gold dust is reported to have been brought down from the upper country, by Wells, Fargo & Co's Express to Dalles, on Friday.

The citizens of Oregon City, Canemah and vicinity, held a public meeting at the Court House last Thursday evening, and made the necessary preliminary arrangements for a celebration of the 4th of July. Messrs Samuel Miller, A. F. Hedges, Peter Paquet, R. Jacobs, Wm Barlow, W. C. Johnson, John Myers, D. P. Thompson, L. D. C. Latourette, Charles Walker, Hiram Straight and Henry Warren, were appointed a committee of arrangements. Messrs D. W. McKinney, J. D. Lecey, J. B. Ralston and W. W. Buck were appointed a committee to procure an Orator, Reader of Declaration, etc. Citizens generally are invited to participate in the celebration.

We learn that Gov. Gibbs starts to-day up the Willamette valley for the purpose of examining a portion of the Central Military Road from Eugene City to the south-eastern boundary of the State. This road is in course of construction by a company to which the Government has donated lands which vested in the company as soon as the road was located, but the right to sell was restricted till the Governor should certify that a road had been made through the sections offered for sale. The road has been located the entire length and a trail made over which a considerable stock has been driven this year. The wagon road is reported done as far as Diamond Peak and it is this portion which is now submitted to the Governor's inspection. The completion of the road will open direct communication between the Upper Willamette valley and Eastern Oregon and Owyhee.

The Linn county "Teachers' Institute" is advertised to meet at Lebanon on the 10th of July to continue three or four days. Quite an extensive list of lecturers and subjects is furnished.

THE CITY ELECTION.—In the early part of last week, notice was given that the Union men of this city would meet in their respective Wards on Friday evening to nominate candidates to the City Council, to be voted for at the election which is to be held to-day. The Democrats, according to their old habit of meddling with other people's business, and of thrusting themselves where they are not invited, came in large numbers to the meetings in the First and Second Wards for the purpose of making our nominations for us. With extreme difficulty they were prevented from taking possession of the meeting in the Second Ward. In the First Ward they were more numerous and more successful. Though it had been advertised as a Union meeting, as was presided over by a Union man, the Democrats, in pursuance of their leading principle of invariably voting whenever there is any thing going, packed in in large numbers, overruled and silenced the Union men who were conducting the proceedings and nominated Messrs. Bills and Hallock, two strong partisan Democrats for the Council. Now we have no objection whatever to the Democrats running these gentlemen for the Council. But we do object to their unbounded impudence, and ungentlemanly conduct in interfering with a meeting where they had no business to appear, and in prevailing those who had appointed the meeting from carrying out the object for which they had assembled. Their conduct in the matter is an exhibition of Democratic rowdyism throughout.

Of course Union men will not vote for candidates nominated in this manner.

In the First Ward where the Democrats have nominated Councilmen, there is only one to be elected. An election has been ordered for one, and no more. There is but a single vacancy; therefore an elector can vote for but one Councilman. The Union men of the First Ward will run Mr. C. Hills for the place. It is unnecessary to say a word about the fitness of one who is so well and favorably known as he.

In the Second Ward the Democrats were prevented from voting at the Union meeting. They therefore did not succeed in nominating Mr. O'Connor. This gentleman, however, is an independent Democratic candidate. The Union candidates are Messrs. W. H. Bennett and, S. Ross, [illegible] from every Union man in the Second Ward should vote.

[illegible] of the Democrats in interfering with our meetings on Friday evening was so very despicable that every Union voter in the city should rebuke it by attending the election to-day and voting for the Union candidates.

CONCERT OF THE PORTLAND PHILHARMONIC SOCIETY.—On Friday evening last the initial Concert of the Portland Philharmonic Society, under the conductorship of Mr. J. S. Wyatt, was given at the New Music Hall of Lappens & Knowles on First street. The room was crowded with the elite and fashion of the city, it being estimated that not less than a thousand persons were present on the occasion. A large number were unable to gain admittance and would no doubt be glad of an opportunity to hear the musical efforts of this body. The first on the programme was a "Gloria from Mozart's Twelfth Mass," by the Society. It was evident before five bars had been sung, that the members had been well and thoroughly trained, yet we greatly missed the organ and orchestra that are always used for Mozart's Music in Eastern cities and in Europe. Prof. Grob, however, succeeded as well as it could be done, to fill the deficiency upon the piano-forte, as he did in the succeeding pieces. A quartette by Messrs. Hoffman, Johnson, Richter and Illsley, followed by selections by the Mechanic's Band, under the leadership of Mr. Everest, were fairly rendered. The duet "I've wandered in dreams," by Mr. and Mrs. Wyatt, was sweetly sung, and received great applause. He has one of the best, if not the best tenor voices in the city, and she is one of our best sopranos. The "Merry Zingara," from Balfe's opera of "Crown Diamonds," by Mrs. Holbrook, followed, and was given in that lady's best style. It is a semi-comic song and to have full effect the character should be represented in the Gipsey costume with stage surroundings. The writer has frequently heard the American prima donna, Miss Caroline Richings, and the beautiful Madame Anna Thillon in this character, but must do Mrs. H. the justice to say that in comparison with those artistes her execution was really creditable. A duet for the violin and flute, arranged from some music by that sweet composer, Bellini, was performed by Messrs. Ainsworth and Cardwell. The second selection in F is an old public gem and these gentlemen, we believe, done it full justice, for which they were fairly applauded. As this was Mr. Ellsworth's first appearance in public he deserves credit for the manner in which he went through his part. The next was a quartette by Messrs. Petersen, Miller and Hooker, "Come where my love lies dreaming," an old, but one of the best compositions of the lamented Stephen C. Foster. They were deservedly encored, and met with the same response in their second piece, after which the Society gave us E. L. White's anthem of "Exalting Angels," which closed the first part of the concert. The tenor solo was well sustained by Mr. [illegible], the soprano and contralto duet by Mrs. Wyatt and Mrs. Corbett; and the bass solo by Mr. Morgan. A little more experience on the part of these gentlemen will display musical abilities that they themselves are perhaps not yet aware of.

At the commencement of the second part, another anthem—"Jehovah's Praise"—by the same author, was given by the Society. Mrs. Corbett sustained the soprano solo in this piece, and was applauded at its close. She has a sweet, sympathetic voice, being well adapted to music of this character. In the succeeding duet with the contralto, Miss Robbins, it was even more marked than in the solo, as Miss R.'s voice is quite rich and full. "I've been Roaming," a ballad by Horn, was sung by Mrs. Snyder, which created an encore. She then gave us "Comin' Thro' the Rye," to the delight of all. We have heard several of her friends regret that she shows a disinclination to copy a theatrical style in the performance of her solos, and think it not admissible in the concert room. This matter we are not disposed to criticise, as this was an amateur affair, but would suggest that she should correct the habit if it offends public taste. Apart from this she is entitled to all praise for her efforts. The solo and chorus, "Down where the Bee-Bells Grow," by Mrs. Wyatt, Miss Robbins and Messrs. Wyatt and Morgan, followed and received the unbounded admiration of the audience. "Schubert's Serenade" by the Band, came next, and was very well performed. This was succeeded by Kucken's duet, "Hunting Boat," sung by Miss Mayer and Mr. Richter, and a double quartette, "Away, away, the morning freshly breaking," from Auber's opera of "Massaniello," by members of the Society, both of which pieces were excellently performed. Miss Mayer then favored us with the gem solo of the evening, it being the celebrated aria "Robert toi que j'aime," from Meyerbeer's opera "Robert le Diable." We have heard several distinguished artists in this aria, and we must say that as far as her compass and power of voice would allow, Miss Mayer showed an equal fidelity and faithfulness to the great composer. We hardly think it fair to compare her to Jenny Lind, Malibran, Grisi or persons of equally exalted genius; for we very well know she would not desire to have a competent judge make the comparison in the public prints. We are not aware that Jenny Lind ever attempted to create a furore in this air. We had always supposed she made her debut in "Casta Diva," from the opera of "Norma," afterwards in Paris in "Ah! non giunge," from the opera of "La Sonnambula," followed shortly in London and New York by the "Echo" song and "Bird" song, composed expressly for her. The writer heard her at her first and last concert in New York, and certainly never heard her in this aria from "Robert." Miss Mayer has a fine quality of voice and uses it splendidly in the concert room, especially when we consider that her experience in that particular is extremely limited. At the close of her solo, she was greeted with prolonged applause, and in the encore, gave us a delightful ballad. The closing piece, by the Society, was the celebrated "Soldier's Chorus" from Gounod's opera of "Faust," which went off magnificently. This, the first concert of the Society, shows what can be done by judicious and well directed efforts. We are inclined to think that if they go on, it would not be long before they could give us the "Druid's Chorus" from "Norma," "Crowned with the Tempest," from "Ernani," or something of that sort. The whole affair is a credit to us as a city, as well as to each individual member of the Society.

CHERRIES AND STRAWBERRIES.—Numerous excursion parties have left the city the past few days in quest of cherries and strawberries. Some go on sail boats, some in carriages, some by steamboats, and one party we know of went by the Lincoln House 'Bus. This last party took the McAdamized road, and went as far south as the cherry orchard of Mr. Thomas Stevens, an old time Oregonian, who has successively reared an orchard of this kind in two of the Eastern States, and now has an attractive place on the banks of the Willamette. He has this season disposed of one hundred dollars' worth of cherries from his orchard, and the appearance does not show that much fruit has been taken from his trees. The price paid to the producer, in the streets of our city on Saturday last, was 30 cents per pound. Cherries this year are not equal to the crop of previous years. The weather has been unfavorable to the crop, and yet there is great abundance. The amount of such early fruit consumed in this market is constantly increasing, and it is a matter of surprise that so few gardens of the city produce any. Cherry trees may be found in almost every cultivated lot, but the varieties are usually of a late kind. All persons owning gardens could easily provide themselves with early fruit for the supply of their own families. The cherry is more easily cultivated than almost any other tree of equal value, and there is no mystery or difficulty in obtaining varieties such as to have the fruit continuously throughout the entire season, without depending upon others for the earliest. Strawberries are in the same manner apparently neglected, and being one of the most important varieties of fruit, of which every one is fond, why not devote more care and attention to the matter?

The demand for Drake's Plantation Bitters from ladies, clergymen, merchants, &c., is incredible. The simple trial of a bottle is the evidence we present of their worth and superiority. STEAM POWER, NOS. 625 AND 627 FRONT ST.

HAS CONSTANTLY ON HAND GROUND AND ROASTED COFFEE, GREEN COFFEE of the best qualities. CREAM OF TARTAR and SPICES of all sorts.

The undersigned, who has always enjoyed public confidence for the excellent quality of his Coffee, neglects nothing to justify the good name acquired by his productions, the sale of which daily increases. The acknowledged superiority of his merchandise, which commands here, and in the markets of the interior, a relatively higher price, excites the cupidity of some manufacturers, and every day he sees increasing the number of those who, by counterfeit or imitation of his mark, seek to deceive the public, palming upon them their inferior productions for the genuine G. VENARD CHARTRES COFFEE. This fraud can deceive nobody after a trial, but only adds to the favorable opinion of the consumers, the very flattering though unwilling testimony of the counterfeiters. Nevertheless, buyers should be forewarned, and placed on their guard against this practice.

CHARGE TO THE JURY

On the Indictment of Jeff. Davis.

NORFOLK, VA., May 11th.—Late yesterday afternoon, the Grand Jury of the United States Circuit Court, in session in this city, brought a true bill against Jefferson Davis for treason, and adjourned until the first Tuesday in June, to meet in Richmond.

After the Grand Jury were sworn in, Judge Underwood delivered the following charge:

Gentlemen of the Grand Jury: The absence of the Chief Justice imposes upon me the duty of submitting to you some considerations for your direction. To the last Grand Jury convened in this city, my views in relation to the great crime of treason against the Government of the United States were fully presented, and were also so extensively published as not to require repetition.

But the liability of persons who were then subject to the parole agreed upon by the commanders of the armies which had been contending in deadly conflict was at that time an unadjudicated question. Happily, however, the universal concurrence of judicial and legal authorities with the opinion given by the Court on this question has relieved us of all doubt upon the subject.

We are also, from the changed condition of the country, as the smoke of the battle is clearing away, more free to act in the administration of civil justice. Except in special cases the writ of habeas corpus is restored, and the restraints of the parole having been removed by the proclamation of peace, it becomes our duty to proceed in the investigation and punishment of some of the crimes which have been committed against our laws.

The omission of the last Grand Jury to find indictments against those who may be considered the principal criminals and greatest offenders against the national sovereignty, who were, in fact, the most prominent in position at the time they deserted their places in the senate of the United States and became leaders of the rebellion, has been misunderstood, and the President has informed the Court that he is unwilling to advise proceedings against such subordinates as Wirz while their superiors and more guilty leaders are not brought to justice. This court entirely agrees with the President in his often-repeated declaration that treason is the greatest of crimes and ought to be signally punished, and that it is cowardly to punish the subordinate and comparatively insignificant and allow the principals to escape. We also concur in the opinion that the leaders in the late rebellion may be treated either as traitors or public enemies, as they were undoubtedly both by the laws of nations.

It is due, however, to the late Grand Jury to say that their omission to find indictments against the greater criminals, when presenting those of inferior position and prominence, was caused by the knowledge that the leaders had been previously indicted in Washington, and that the jury was unwilling to seem vindictive, or to do any act not demanded by the sternest and clearest duty. Since that time the Attorney General has published his opinion that Washington is not the proper place of trial, but that the trial should be in Virginia, where the actual offenses had been committed. We therefore submit the matter to your consideration.

Much complaint has been made by our fellow citizens of the North of the tardiness of our criminal prosecutions. We think it better, in imitation of the great and good martyred Lincoln, and in imitation of the Great Ruler of the universe, whose judgments and retributions are slow but sure, that we should approach this great question of the punishment of the authors of the terrible and unprovoked rebellion, with all possible deliberation, discrimination, caution and clemency, so that no unnecessary blood shall be added to the torrents that have already soaked the soil of our devoted State.

Those at the North who assail us seem to forget our peculiar circumstances. The education which is almost universal with them is here confined within very narrow limits, that the masses of the people with us who cannot read are necessarily dependent on the educated few for their opinions and conduct; and hence the necessity of greater care and discrimination in ascertaining guilt and inflicting punishment. It may be said that ignorance is not an excuse for crime in a free Government; but the truth is, Virginia has never had a really free Government, nor could freedom exist for any class where nearly half the people were held in abject slavery.

By an irrepealable law of nature, whenever we fasten one end of the chain upon a fellow being the other and heavier end is linked around ourselves, corroding our bodies until the iron enters our very souls. We insist, therefore, that the masses of our people were so profoundly ignorant of the condition of public affairs, and so misled and deceived by the intensely selfish and wicked aristocracy, as not to be morally responsible for their participation in the late rebellion, and that it would be adding cruelty to injustice to hold them so.

To convince the most skeptical on this subject, let us look at the condition and history of the First Congressional District in this State. That district contains more than four times the territory of the rich, prosperous, enlightened, happy, liberty-and equality-loving State of Rhode Island, once the seat of learning and of boasted Virginia hospitality, the birthplace of four Presidents of the United States, embracing the site of the first English settlement in America, the city of Jamestown, which, now more fallen than Tyre or Sidon, or Sodom or Gomorrah, has not enough of ruins even left for bats to flit or owls to hoot in.

In the nineteen counties of that district there is not now, as its Representative in Congress thirty years ago boasted, a single newspaper published, and so long has the schoolmaster been abroad that probably more than three-fourths of its native-grown men and women can neither read nor write. Rhode Island with its half million acres, has nearly double the population, ten times the wealth, enterprise and education, and contributes to the National Treasury more than twenty-two millions of fertile acres lying on both sides of the Chesapeake, and on the great James, York, Rappahannock, and Potomac, having the greatest commercial, oyster and fishing capabilities of almost any district in the United States. What a forcible illustration of the truth that justice, equity, industry and virtue, or as the Bible says, "Godliness is profitable for the life that now is as well as that which is to come. That righteousness exalteth a nation, but sin is a reproach to any people."

We would not object to the sentiments of the old and eccentric member of Congress from the First District if he only referred to those treasonable newspapers which have advocated the rebellion, for they have indeed been a curse to us all, bringing fire and sword, desolation and death, not only upon Richmond, but upon every extremity of the State.

If we earnestly consider the origin and inquire into the cause of our calamities; if we ask why have our rivers, like ancient Nile, run blood? why have we, like the Egyptians, been overwhelmed in a Red Sea, while we were endeavoring to prevent ourselves from escaping to a land of freedom, why have our first-born been cut down by tens of thousands until the voice of mourning and lamentation fills the land as it once did the land of Pharaoh? why have we suffered so many plagues as once visited the proud and stubborn oppressors of the Israelites? we shall find the answer to be because, in the language of reason and philosophy, we have made war upon the rights of human nature. Or, in the language of the old Hebrew, because we have oppressed the poor, and because the God of the poor is determined to write with His own hand His abhorrence of slavery and oppression all over our land in characters so legible that neither we nor our children's children can ever mistake His mind and will in coming generations.

To our shame and disgrace it must be admitted that so far as we are advised, every one of the numerous conflicts of races which have occurred in this State during the past year has been the wanton and unprovoked work of wicked white men upon poor, quiet, unoffending, and, in most cases, unarmed and unresisting colored people. Why should we murder, rob or interrupt them, burn their school-houses and churches, insult and attack the teachers who, in the cause of improvement and elevation and Christian charity have come to us from the ever-friendly North in the same spirit that brought them in 1855 to this devoted city when the scourge of yellow fever was here in its wrath? Let us not forget that then as now, it was to the North and its generous people that we had to look in our want for aid and assistance.

Unless a stop is put to such violence and outrage upon the freedmen, we can never expect relief from the presence of Northern bayonets and admission to the rights and privileges of the Federal Union; but we shall become the by-word and scorn of the whole civilized world. We shall be considered barbarians, and be justly excluded from the sympathies of all Christian men. It is your duty, gentlemen of the jury, to see to it that a people who were loyal and true to the nation's flag in the time of trial and danger shall be protected against the persecution of those who, fresh from scenes of treason and rebellion, are pursuing their victims with most infernal hate, for no apparent reason except their fidelity and devotion to the country.

We fully appreciate the magnitude and difficulty of the task set before you; the monstrous wrong with which you are called to grapple, like the giant hydra, still lifts some of its many heads, which you must strike down or they will continue to disturb the public tranquility. It would be childish to expect that so great an iniquity could be extirpated in a single year, or even in a single generation. It should be remembered that it had its whole history in politics; private as well as public life. Not only did it control the political press and all political parties in the State, but with fierce energy, it spoke from the pulpit, perverting the gospel of human brotherhood into the gospel of human chattelhood, and into the absolute submission of a part to the lust and avarice of the rest of human kind.

Our religious teachers had forgotten to preach the wrong of withholding the hire of labor and [illegible] our fellow men of [illegible], separating [illegible] parents and children [illegible] distance from [illegible] the homes of their birth, and the graves of their dead, and had become [illegible] exceptions, [illegible] apologists of the lust and violence of the masters who, in return for their services, were willing to feed them on the fat of the land. Our legislators, instead of following the Christian law requiring much where much is given and proportioning accountability to the gifts and talents of nature, had established the reverse enactments, punishing the ignorant and uneducated, whom it was made a crime to enlighten with death for many offenses which, when committed by the educated and privileged, were satisfied with fine and imprisonment.

Our Courts of justice had proclaimed the infamous doctrine that dusky men had no rights which white men were bound to respect, and into this very temple of law a pious woman had been dragged as a criminal for an act which might almost invite an archangel to come down from the mansions of the blest—for teaching the poor children of oppression and of licensed wrong to read the Bible and the laws made not to govern them, but to crush out of them every feeling of humanity.

And worst of all, and most to be deplored, was the prostitution of our homes, the very heart and seat of domestic purity, the poisoning of which is fatal to all moral vitality and death to all public and private happiness. The subjection of the women of one complexion to the wild fury of unbridled licentiousness, and, as a consequence, denying to the women of our own complexion the holy rites of marriage, of making in thousands of cases those rites as much a mockery as a conscious traitor's oath, were proclaimed on every plantation in the bleached faces of the children of the slave women, bleached by the blood of the first families, until hardly half our births were of lawful wedlock, and until it would seem that masculine virtue must be nearly extinct in the proud circles of the chivalric aristocracy of the State.

Your duties, under these circumstances, are both difficult and dangerous, for you are called upon to oppose the worst passions of desperate men, who will make vigorous efforts to verify their often repeated predictions that freedom would bring ruin and extermination upon the colored people, and it is possible that you may meet with violence for a faithful discharge of your duties, as one of the last Grand Jury has already done. But better, a thousand times better to fall by the hand of the assassin, as Lincoln and Dixon have fallen, or die under the mockery of pretended forms of law, as our Savior did, in the cause of freedom and humanity, than to shirk like cowards from our public trusts, in order to drag out a few more years of ignoble life before filling unhonored graves.

The laws of Congress which will guide your action are instinct with equity, and are ample, if fearlessly administered, to check and humble the most defiant, differing essentially in this respect from the laws of our State Legislature, which, like those of an ancient heathen nation seem "like cobwebs made to catch the weak, but to permit the strong to break through them." Yours is the rough pioneer work of removing the great obstruction of crime and violence from our midst so that education, intellectual, moral and religious, education very different from the past, may come to cure the evil under which we suffer.

Where there is so much vice to be reclaimed, ignorance to be enlightened, and misery to be alleviated, we hope the teacher and the missionary will come, and that a culture and refinement will yet be seen approaching that which now blesses Massachusetts and New England, and that the time may be hastening when our people shall feel and act like brethren of the same blood, children of the same Almighty Benefactor, who permits all alike to range the same earth, breathe the same air, bask in the same sunshine, and dwell under the same celestial canopy, thus teaching our duty and inviting our imitation.

When joining in efforts for mutual aid, we shall forget the terrible past and the gloomy present—the bitter fruits of ages of violence and oppression on our side, and of misery, ignorance and degradation on the other. Since the adjournment of the last Grand Jury, the attention of the Court has been particularly called to the disloyal press by the highest military authority in the country, with a view to the punishment of its treason and excitement of rebellion.

While concurring entirely with the Lieutenant General and the distinguished soldier and accomplished lawyer who commands the Department of Virginia, in the propriety of abating by military power such papers during the supremacy of martial law, and recognizing the distinction between liberty and licentiousness, after mature reflection, we doubt the policy of suppressing by the Courts papers treasonable as any even in this State.

Aside from an unwillingness to limit the freedom of the press, it is submitted that the cause of good government may gain more by the exposure of treasonable designs through the most disloyal press than it would by punishment and suppression. By restraint the disease would not be cured, but would only become concealed, and more dangerous by concealment.

The vanity, egotism and heartlessness of our disloyal editors can, with their limited circulation, do little harm, except themselves and their friends. Their attacks upon good men only display their own malignity, and greatly endorse those they assail to the hearts and sympathies of the true friends of freedom and the country. It is not intended to urge these views, and they are submitted with great diffidence since they seem to conflict with such eminent patriotism and high authority.

Your attention is also called to the laws against counterfeiting and passing the counterfeit currency of the United States, and also to violations of the revenue and postal laws of the United States, with the hope that you will be troubled with few cases under them, and after a short session be permitted to return to your homes, conscious of a faithful discharge of your important duties.

After the Judge concluded the charge, J. Gillingham, foreman of the jury, arose, and after making a few remarks explanatory of his calling, "as a man of peace and good will to all men," he respectfully requested the Judge to excuse him from serving on the jury, as he felt himself totally incompetent to handle the tools spoken of in the charge. "He did not know how to use them." The Judge held the request under advisement.

The Cholera—Views of Dr Johnson, of King's College, London

[From the Washington Globe.]

Some think it best to avoid mentioning the approaching cholera, because the mere mention of it causes fear, and fear renders men peculiarly liable to disease. But, on the other hand, it is known that terror is always augmented by mystery, and may be diminished if shown to be excessive or unwarranted. Hence it can do no harm but may rather, by allaying alarm, tend to prevent the disease, to explain how easily and in what manner a distinguished British physician thinks it can be cured.

Dr George Johnson, a Professor of medicine in King's College, London, published a work on cholera in 1855. He has just published another work on the same subject. He believes that cholera is caused by exposure to an atmosphere charged with the effluvia of decomposing animal and vegetable matter, which fetid gases pass through the lungs into the blood, and are thence eliminated through the stomach and bowels. He further believes it to be contagious, or to be caused by the spread of a wave of morbific matter, in opposition to the opinion of most physicians, who believe that it arises from atmospheric conditions like fevers, and who therefore maintain that it is to be treated with narcotics, astringents and stimulants. Dr Johnson, however, with many others, holds that cholera is caused by a poison which is expelled by purging and vomiting, and that if we stop these we retain the poison in the system.

Dr Johnson's theory seems to be supported by the fact that many cases of death by cholera occur without purging or vomiting, but with symptoms resembling those caused by irritant poisons. The Indian practitioners observed this and did not attempt, as Europeans do, to cure with brandy and opium. In King's College Hospital in 1849 Dr Johnson observed that with brandy and opium the mortality was very great. Salt and water were then administered, which excited vomiting and rather increased than diminished purging. Under this treatment, the proportion of recoveries was much greater. At that time Dr Johnson had no power to determine the treatment to be followed in the hospital. At the next visitation of the disease, in 1854, having entire charge of the hospital, he administered emetics and purgatives to all the patients. There were many who had vomiting, bilious purging, and cramps. They were all treated with castor oil without opiates. No one case passed into collapse, and they all recovered. In 1849 healthy inmates of the hospital were seized with choleric symptoms; they were treated with opiates, passed into collapse and died. In 1854 persons in a similar condition were treated in [illegible] manner. They were treated with castor oil and all recovered. These results were certainly very striking.

Dr Johnson explains the well known symptoms of cholera on the theory that [illegible] poison [illegible] the [illegible] of a drain of fluid from the blood which he disproves by the fact that the degree of collapse does not depend on the amount of purging and vomiting, and that the administration of stimulants does not relieve it, but must [illegible] aggravates the alarming symptoms of prostration.

The [illegible] blood [illegible] arteries and the consequent [illegible] pulse are accounted for by Dr Johnson on the theory that the irritation of the poison excites contraction of the minute pulmonary arteries, and thus arrests the flow of blood through the lungs. This accounts for the coldness of the body and the blueness of the skin resulting from the dark color of the blood which, as its circulation between the lungs and the heart is intercepted, is not sufficiently aerated or oxydized.

Dr Johnson maintains that, as no one recovers from the small pox without an eruption of the skin, so no cholera patient gets well without vomiting and diarrhoea by which the morbid secretions are removed from the body. In malignant small pox a patient may die before the rash appears and so in cholera a patient may die of collapse before purging and vomiting set in.

As to infection, Dr Johnson says it is certain that the cholera excretions contain poisonous materials by which the disease may be communicated. The frequency with which washerwomen are attacked is accounted for by supposing that they have come in contact with the bed linen of cholera patients. A single case of cholera may, through the sewers, infect a whole district.

Knowing of no agent that will neutralize the cholera poison, Dr Johnson believes that the morbid contents of the stomach and bowels must be ejected by vomiting and purging. The natural mode of cure, he says, should be assisted. The intestines in collapse are often distended by liquid, and in cases where there has been copious watery purging during life, the small intestines are found to contain after death a large quantity of peculiar dirty white material with a very offensive odor. A purgative will remove these conditions, and Dr Johnson believes that castor oil will do so with the least amount of irritation. He believes that the saline treatment of Dr. Stevens has proved successful for the same reason that treatment with castor oil has succeeded, that is, because it assists elimination. The partial success of calomel he attributes to the same cause. Opium and brandy he found always injurious. External warmth may do good, if it is of such a kind as does not interfere with cutaneous respiration, the aeration of blood through the skin. Hot injections into the rectum may, in case of extreme collapse, be used with advantage, but ice in any form is injurious, because it checks the vomiting and chills the system.

Such is Dr. Johnson's system. Experience may soon enable us to prove whether he is right or wrong.

The Jumel Will Case

On the hights of the west bank of the Harlem river stands a fine old mansion, dating back long before the days of the Revolution, a house in which Washington, Lafayette, and their contemporaries, wrote their dispatches during the dark period when the British landed and occupied the city, a house from which one may now overlook the steeples of this busy city, the pleasant hills of Westchester, and the distant waters of the Sound.

In this picturesque spot lived, since 1803 or 1804, Mme. Jumel, whose eventful life ended nigh a year ago at a very advanced age, whose eventful story, could it be written, might be more interesting than any romance. An obscure but beautiful Yankee girl, she had come to be the wife of the rich Jumel, a Frenchman driven away from St Domingo during its horrors. Full of ambition and talent, she did and dared many things which made the timid and the prudent stare, which set the tongues of the envious and the curious a wagging, and made her as famous and as brilliant as any woman of her time. One of the episodes of her later career was her marriage with Aaron Burr, which was soon terminated by a separation, but which identified her with one of the most remarkable men of the country. From her marriage to a French gentleman and a rich one, she came to know Louis Phillippe, Talleyrand, and all the rest of those remarkable men who had refuge in this country from time to time, and when afterward she visited France, with her husband, she had access to the Court circle, which then few Americans ever entered, and where she made her mark. For a time she was a star among the beauties of the Court and if to be talked about to be envied, is to be happy, then Mme. Jumel was as happy as mortal woman could be. But for the past fifteen years she has been growing very old, and has spent her time in the retirancy of her own home, with few intimates, and little intercourse with the world—her companions and friends being her neice and adopted daughter and her children. Those she had taken to France to be educated. There one of them was married by the agency and consent of the madame. The landed estate she received from Jumel she held on to with a tenacious grasp, until in the progress of time it had become a property of immense value—some estimate it at a million of dollars.

But now it has to be fought over, and out of it is to come the "great Jumel will case," in which will be arrayed some of the most distinguished lawyers of the New York bar.

It appears that in her old age, when past ninety, Mme Jumel made a new will, cutting off her relatives and adopted child and children, giving her entire property to various public charities, with the single exception of her pastor, who was to have an equal share with the other devisees. These relatives and heirs who have lived with her some forty years naturally do not respect this paper, and they claim that she had become incompetent to make a legal will. They are inclined to charge undue influences, and they demand that this paper shall be set aside as null and void, so that they may enter in and enjoy the good things which they think they had a good and reasonable right to expect.

On the other hand the devisees take quite an opposite view—they think no woman was in a better frame of mind than Mme Jumel, and that the very judicious bequests made to them entitle her sanity to the greatest respect. They claim, too, that Mme Jumel's relatives are no relatives at all, and have no right to any part of her property, and that it is altogether wrong and improper to set up the claims they do. Here the issue is joined, and on Monday the respective forces were marshaled in the presence of the Judges of the first division of the Supreme Court—Mr O'Connor and Judge Pierpont for the relatives, Mr Augustus Smith and Mr Stoughton for the will. The presence of a room filled with the legal profession testified to the interest the case was exciting, but a short contest on the part of the devisees to have the case postponed, on the part of their opponents to have it go to immediate trial, resulted in its postponement to the May term, when it is entitled to preference over all other cases. We shall then look for curious and interesting developments.—N. Y. Times.

ALLEN'S

LUNG BALSAM!

The Remedy for Curing

CONSUMPTION, COUGHS, COLDS,

Asthma, Croup,

Diseases of the Throat, Bronchitis, Pains and Oppression of the Chest and Lungs, Difficult Breathing and all the Diseases of the Pulmonary Organs.

ITS ACTION IS EXPECTORANT, ALTERATIVE, SUDORIFIC, SEDATIVE, DIAPHORETIC AND DIURETIC, which renders it one of the most valuable remedies known for curing diseases of the lungs. It excites expectoration, and causes the lungs to throw off the phlegm or mucus, CHANGES THE SECRETIONS AND PURIFIES THE BLOOD; heals the irritated parts; gives strength to the digestive organs; brings the liver to its proper action, and imparts strength to the whole system. Such is the immediate and satisfactory effect, that it is WARRANTED TO BREAK UP THE MOST DISTRESSING COUGH IN A FEW HOURS' TIME, if not of too long standing. IT IS WARRANTED to give entire satisfaction even in the MOST CONFIRMED CASES OF CONSUMPTION! IT IS WARRANTED NOT to produce costiveness (which is the case with most remedies) or affect the head, as it contains no Opium in any form. IT IS WARRANTED TO BE PERFECTLY HARMLESS to the most delicate child, although it is an active and powerful remedy for restoring the system. THERE IS NO REAL NECESSITY FOR SO MANY DEATHS BY CONSUMPTION when ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM will prevent it if only taken in time.

LEFFEL'S

American Double Turbine Water Wheel

IS NOW MANUFACTURED BY THE OREGON IRON Works, in the city of Portland, and orders for the same can be filled immediately. We have a small supply of the different sizes from 10 inches to 48 inches in diameter. That we may know the proper sized wheel you require, measure your water in the following way: Take the width of the stream, the average depth, and the distance it flows in a minute.

All the wheels now in use give universal satisfaction. Both the construction of the wheel and its performance commend it to the better judgment of all who is capable of judging it as the highest development of mechanical construction. Therefore it has conquered the most violent opposition.

This wheel is especially adapted to mining purposes. It is light and can be easily packed into the mountains. Wheels weighing from 100 to 180 pounds will yield from 10 to 40 horse power under a head of 25 or 30 feet. They are the cheapest wheel to set up known, as they are so arranged as to produce the greatest power possible from the water used.

The prices of these wheels have now been reduced to the ability of all. Come and see them or send for a circular to Medical.

PRIVATE MEDICAL INSTITUTE,

SAN FRANCISCO.

THE GREAT ERADICATOR OF SPECIAL COMPLAINTS, FORMERLY OF LOCKE HOSPITAL, LONDON, EIGHT YEARS IN SACRAMENTO AND THE LAST THREE YEARS IN SAN FRANCISCO.

Experience is of forty years standing, and during that time he has met with unparalleled success in the treatment of all those diseases generally known as Venereal or Chronic.

It is hardly possible here to mention all the diseases with which the afflicted [illegible] perhaps, will not be out of place. The most formidable, the most destructive to mankind is Self Abuse. The brain being the seat of the disease the whole system suffers in consequence. I will here enumerate some of the symptoms, so that those afflicted may be able to form an opinion in regard to their complaints and seek advice in time, thereby saving themselves a world of suffering: Nervous Debility, Loss of Memory, Pain in the Limbs and Back, Palpitation of the Heart, Trembling of the Limbs, Headache, and an Aversion to Female Society, especially that of Females. There are a great many more, but these are sufficient, and should you be suffering from any of them, call on DR. TOZER and he will cure you in a short time, without any interruption in your business—or state your case by letter, and there will be no occasion for your calling at the Office.

Stricture of the Urethra

Is another formidable enemy to health. Send for one of my circulars on that disease, and inform yourself of its terrible results. The worst cases cured in a few days.

Venereal Diseases

In all their various forms, either Primary, Secondary or Hereditary, completely eradicated from the system. Your constitution being restored to perfect health, there will be no danger of handing down to your children that terrible disease known as Scrofula.

Syphilitic Disease

As it presents itself on this coast, is of a more formidable character than that seen in the Atlantic States or Europe, arising from the fact of its being a compound of Spanish, Chinese and Sandwich Island disease. Those of you who have visited the two latter countries no doubt have seen the awful effects of it on both the native and foreign population. It requires altogether different modes of treatment.

The Old Formulas

Of Record, Actel and Bostwick are of little account, except to dry up the disease on the surface, leaving the poison in the blood, which, sooner or later, will show itself in a secondary disease in an aggravated form. These facts I have learned by experience and think that I can say without boasting that I have seen more practice in these diseases than any other physician in California, dating back from 1849. It becomes you therefore, to think well before you employ a physician.

Who is the proper one to consult—an old experienced one or one who has recently settled amongst you?

My Plan is Purely Vegetable,

Destroying the disease and purifying the blood, so that there is no danger of secondary symptoms.

Rheumatism, Neuralgia,

And diseases arising from the use of Mercury, such as pains in the skin, bones, swelling of the different joints of the body, running sores, etc., etc., and impurities of the blood, cured in a short time by the use of my VEGETABLE MIXTURES, known only to myself.

Diseases Peculiar to Females,

Such as Retention, Painful Menstruation, etc., etc., have been my study for a great number of years, and I can safely promise a perfect cure in a short time.

Be not deterred from calling on Dr. TOZER from delicacy or a fear of exposure, as the Doctor is a man in whom you can trust, and all cases are treated with the utmost secrecy.

My Female Pills

Are the best ever used in this climate for the Suppression of the Monthly Sickness. Every lady should have a box in case of necessity. Price, $5. Consultation, at the office or by letter, FREE. All letters returned or destroyed. Office hours from 9 a. m. till 8 p. m.

Seminal Weakness.

Seminal Emissions, the consequence of self abuse. This solitary vice, or depraved sexual indulgence, is practised by the youth of both sexes to an almost unlimited extent, producing, with unerring certainty, the following train of morbid symptoms, unless combatted by scientific medical measures, viz: Sallow countenance, dark spots under the eyes, pain in the head, ringing in the ears, noise like the rustling of leaves and rattling of chariots, uneasiness about the loins, weakness of the limbs, confused vision, blunted intellect, loss of confidence, diffidence in approaching strangers, a dislike to form new acquaintances, a disposition to shun society, loss of memory, hectic flushes, pimples and various eruptions about the face, furred tongue, fetid breath, coughs, consumption, night sweats, monomania and frequent insanity. If relief is not obtained, should apply immediately, either in person or by letter, and have a cure effected by his new and unrivalled mode of treating this disease, which never failed effecting a quick and radical cure. Dr. G. will give One Hundred Dollars to any person who will prove satisfactorily to him that he was cured of this complaint by either of the San Francisco quacks.

DOCTOR GIBBON is responsible, and will give to each patient a written instrument, binding him to effect a radical and permanent cure, or make no charge.

Persons at a distance may be CURED AT HOME, by addressing a letter to Doctor Gibbon, stating case, symptoms, length of time the disease has continued, and have medicines promptly forwarded, free from damage and curiosity, to any part of the country, with full and plain directions for use, for Ten Dollars, sent in registered letter or through Wells, Fargo & Co.

Consultations FREE.

CAUTION TO THE UNFORTUNATE.

Beware of the San Francisco quacks [illegible] calendar, who with bogus sworn certificates do [illegible] namely, Some of the self-styled Doctors, whose [illegible] are to be found in the daily and weekly papers of San Francisco and other places, are tradesmen, and been only lately to work at their trades. Some are tinsmiths, [illegible] news-paper carriers, intelligence office keepers, etc., etc. Look over the San Francisco City Directory, and you will not find their Medical Institutes in it; but you will find their former occupations in it. Look at the directory for 1862 and 1863. The only way to avoid imposition is to make inquiry—it will cost you nothing, and may save you many regrets, for as advertising physicians in eight cases out of ten are bogus, there is no safety in trusting any of them until you know who and what they are. DR. GIBBON does not deceive people by exhibiting bogus titles, certificates, pretended patients' letters, etc. DR. GIBBON will satisfy persons who may call at his office of his ability to treat diseases that he professes to cure. Consultation Free. ap23d3m

even were he now to comply with his contract and pay in Coin, would be getting
